

BROADEN YOUR FRAME WHO'S AFRAID OF PABLO PICASSO? A JOURNEY THROUGH TIME AND SPACE WITH PICASSO THE FOREIGNER & HIS ART

ANNIE COHEN-SOLAL Distinguished Professor, Department of Political and Social Sciences

It seems as though countless words have been written about Picasso. No other artist has ever sparked off as many debates, controversies, passions. Nevertheless, who knows about the obstacles that the young genius had to face when he first arrived in Paris, in 1900, without speaking a word of French? How was he able to make it, in a century permeated by great political turbulence? In a world torn apart by nationalisms of every kind, how did he manage to conduct his aesthetic revolutions?

Annie Cohen-Solal answers these questions in her book Picasso the Foreigner, revealing a previously unknown side of Pablo Picasso. Thanks to a multidisciplinary approach and extensive archival research, she was able to unveil Picasso's hidden history.

Picasso the Foreigner has been translated in 10 countries and is published in Italian by Marsilio under the title Picasso. Una vita da Straniero (translation by Manuela Bertone). Following exhibitions in Paris (Musée national de l'histoire de l'immigration) and in New York (Gagosian), the book is currently the subject of two Italian exhibitions: Picasso lo Straniero at Palazzo Reale in Milan (Sept. 20th, 2024 - Feb. 2nd, 2025) and Picasso. Poesia e Salvezza at Palazzo Te in Mantova (Sept. 6th, 2024 - Jan. 6th, 2025).
