

Intercultural communication

Language

English

Course content and objectives

The theme of the course is intercultural communication, defined as a communication process that takes shape within linguistic and social communities in which there is the co-presence of individuals belonging to different cultures. Intercultural communication promotes respect and knowledge of differences in favor of growth and enrichment for each person involved.

What will you get from this learning journey?

- Ideas and information that can inspire insights on the topic
- tips and tools to effectively guide one's behavior in culturally heterogeneous environments.

The sessions will discuss these topics:

- The fundamentals of communication: axioms in practice
- Intercultural communication: a reference model to guide behavior
- Conscious intercultural communication: obstacles and barriers/ opportunities and growth.

Faculty for the course

Tania Paradiso, trainer and facilitator at Otherwise